

William Brank

Fides et Ratio

The final accomplishment would be to know the emptiness of any accomplishment
— to have that pleasure at the end of it.

Balances

Believes in sleeps
and fakes in wakings
we look for footplace
and take what we find.
It's not much to hold us
but we're not much to hold.